

OIL & GAS: AN INTRODUCTION

Ensure Your Organisation Shares Common Goals

Focus your business, achieve your objectives

This workshop is intended for non-geoscience or engineering personnel, employed by an Operator or Service Company, who would benefit from gaining an understanding of the history of the oil & gas industry.

Beginning in the late 1850's, we look at the pioneering oil companies, the technical challenges, the types of depositional systems, through to conventional and unconventional resources, the distribution of oil & gas reserves, and the current situation in the 21st century.
